The App will be in three languages (German, English and Italian)

These three languages are needed because these three main languages are spoken in Austria today so that all the app buttons are also translated.

The user's language selection will also help us to understand in which language to listen to a specific advertising spot at the beginning of a call to that particular user.

Valerio Villani after creating his own account, has just called his friend Christian and as soon as the telephone conversation ended he received the notification on the app of the commercial referring to the audio he listened to while waiting for Christian to answer the phone (commercial instead of the classic acoustic sound "Tuuu" "Tuuu")

↑ RETURN

Below is the explanation in every part of the home and post view of an account that has already been operational for several months

The audio spot present in the post is the same one that the customer listened to at the beginning of his phone call instead of the ring and once the phone call is finished he receives a notification thus updating his Feed / Home where in addition to finding the audio commercial he has just listened to (which could be listened to comfortably) can also view the photo or video of that advertiser company.

In the post that particular user / company has decided to sponsor, the account / company name accompanied by its rating number will be displayed. Under the name of the company you can see the account (View Profile) of that company with all the advertising posts that it has published over time or consult the profile of that user by simply clicking on the company name so as to remove the word View Profile

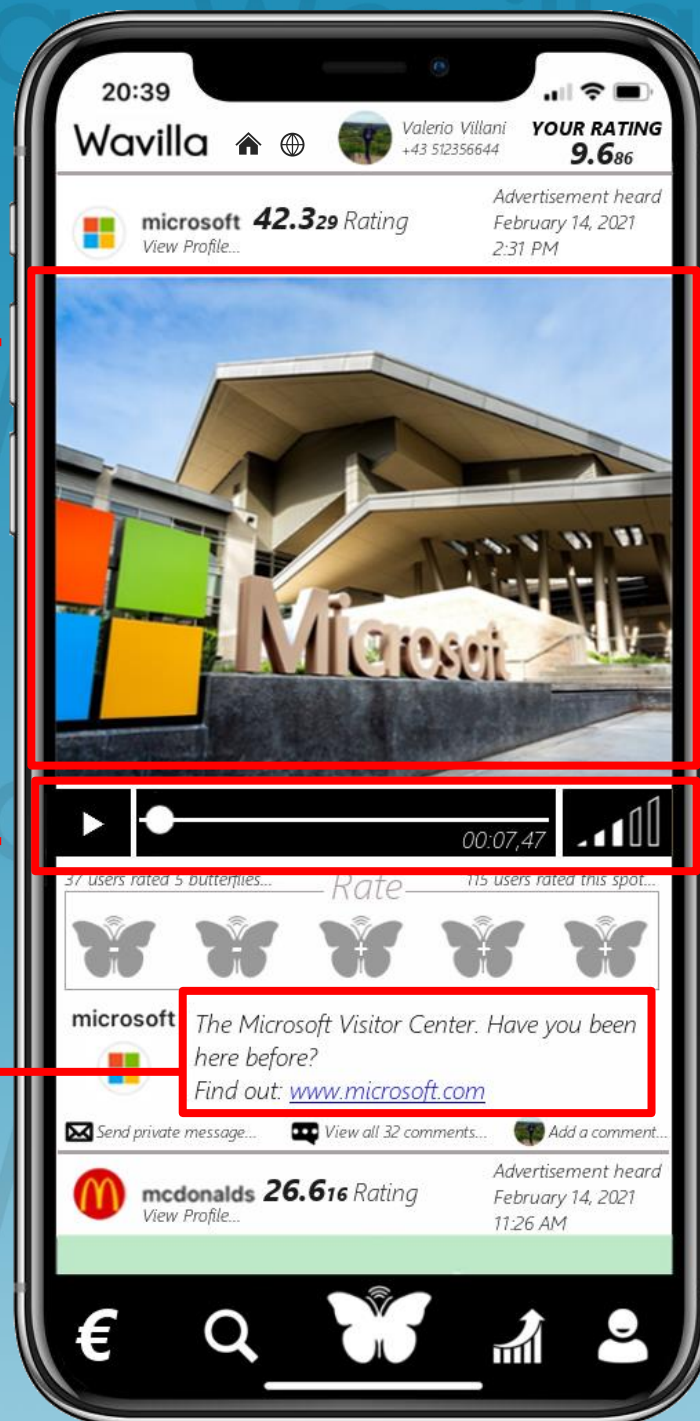

All users will have a rating of their profile. The valuation goes up or down (Infinity) based on the spot valuations of all clients. From here the user can view their rating. By clicking on it you can view the complete list of those who voted and also see the amount of votes they cast. The count can go even below zero and will have a negative sign in front of the vote number.

↑ RETURN TO INDEX

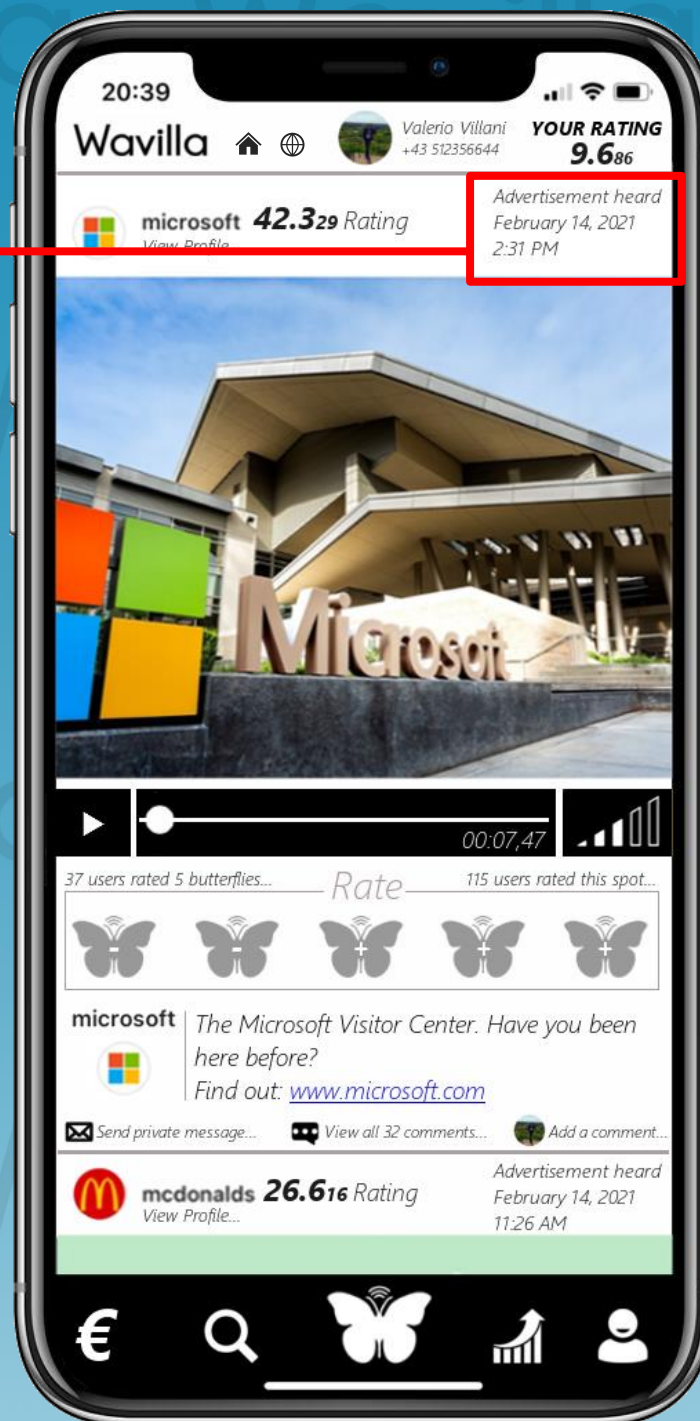

These three blocks (image or / and video, audio spot and caption with advertiser's link) are the elements that a company or a user are obliged to insert when they want to publish their company in order to be able to listen to their spot audio advertising before any outgoing call from Wavilla to other telephone numbers, including those of other operators.

At the end of a phone call, a notification will be sent to the customer presenting the post of the advertiser by showing all the other contents that obviously could not be displayed in the audio spot.

↑ RETURN
TO INDEX

Each post must report the date and time of listening to the audio spot. The date and time refers to the LISTENING of the audio at the beginning of the phone call, therefore do not report the date and time of the post display. This is because a customer who makes the phone call can stay up to 2 hours on the phone and when he hooks up the phone call he will receive notification and a new post from that advertiser company too late compared to when he actually listened to the audio spot.

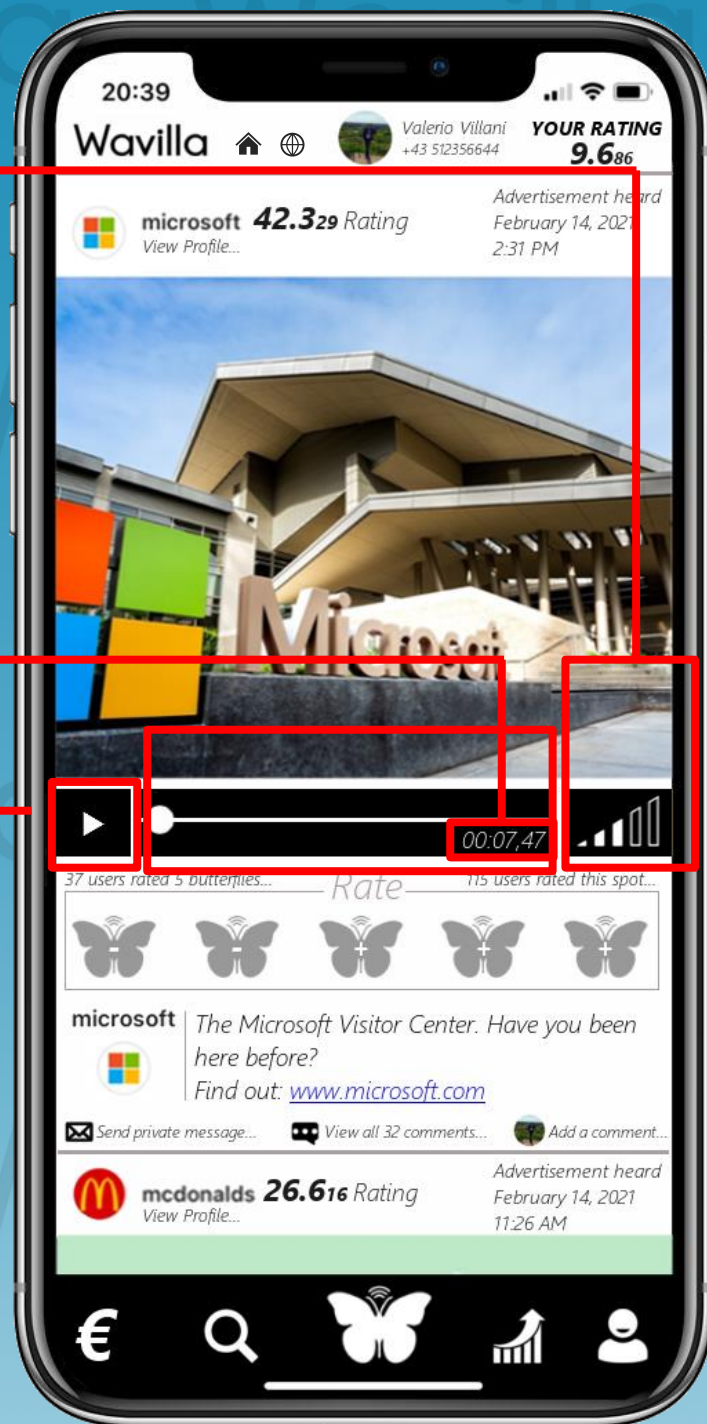

↑ RETURN

VOTING SYSTEM

In every post from any company, it will be accompanied by this block with 5 butterflies.

As soon as each user has received the post of that advertiser company, he will be able to cast a vote from 1 to 5 butterflies and the vote will affect the total number of evaluations of that company. Therefore, good protection for a company is given by good or worse advertisements.

When the spot has yet to be voted on, the 5 butterflies are GRAY. When you click on each butterfly, the butterfly fills with BLACK color and will remain colored to show the user that that post was voted by himself.

Starting from left to right; if a customer with a rating of 1 butterfly means that it will turn black and DOWNLOAD the advertiser's rating of -1 point, if you click on the second butterfly (the first will also be colored black together with the second) and the evaluation of that company will be downloaded by -2 points (in fact inside the first 2 butterflies there is the sign -), if a customer votes 3 butterflies (also the first and second butterfly together with the third will be colored black) and will charge +3 points on the company's rating, if a customer evaluates 4 butterflies (the first, second, third together with the fourth will be black) and will charge +4 points on the company's rating, if a customer will rate 5 butterflies (the first, the second, the third, the fourth together with the fifth butterfly will also be colored all black) and will charge +5 points on the evaluation, (in fact the + sign is found within the last 3 butterflies).

For example, if in this Microsoft post I vote 2 butterflies, it means that the first 2 butterflies will be colored black and Microsoft's rating will go from 42.329 to 42.327 (having downloaded -2 votes compared to the current rating). If, for example, in this Microsoft post I vote 3 butterflies, it means that all the first 3 butterflies will be colored black and Microsoft's evaluation will go from 42.329 to 42.332 (having uploaded +3 votes compared to the current evaluation). I hope that the advertisers' rating can be updated in real time since it will not be only me in this case to vote but this same post will also be voted by other customers at the same time and it would be nice to see update in real time without having to update the feed / home .

On each business post, it shows the summary of the amount of the number of users who voted 5 butterflies for that post. By clicking here the user can view the name and surname of the users who have voted 5 butterflies where he can then go to visit the profile of those users. All the text you see followed by three dots (...) means that the text is selectable and contains a submenu.

From here show the TOTAL of the votes made on this spot both negative and positive votes. In short, the total number of voters

This key (Wavilla logo) slightly larger than the other 4 keys, is the IMPORTANT key for the whole system. In fact, from this button you can create posts (mandatory insertion of photos or videos, caption with company link and audio spot following a step-by-step procedure in the submenu up to the customer's payment method) All users can also be advertisers. Even private profiles can publish their audio spot always in exchange for money for the advertisements. All audio posts / commercials published on Wavilla are paid, so you cannot publish posts and audio commercials for free precisely because the telephone line offered by Wavilla is free for all Wavilla customers. In fact, you don't pay for the telephone line to have unlimited minutes, sms, gigs of navigation, but you pay for the commercials that you want Wavilla customers to listen to. I thought about the limit that at the first opening of the app you could show a short tutorial directly on the keys so go and explain what certain keys are for and above all explain well the voting method with the 5 butterflies so as to make it clear how many points each refer to to the butterfly that the customer would touch to vote.
